The sectional basketball tournament for 1935-36 is to be held in the Marion High School gym, at Cedar Rapids on Friday and Saturday, March 13 and 14. Marion drew a bye in the first round, and is scheduled to play the winner of the Wilson - McKinley match at 2 p.m. Friday. If Marion survives this match, she will appear in the 9:30 game Friday evening. The final game will be played Saturday evening at 7:30. This year's tournament will be among the best in recent years, to the belief of this scribe.

TRACK WORKOUTS START . . . .

Workouts for track are in order this week, with many more aspirants in the offing. Individual positions on the squad are many, and as yet very few have even been tentatively filled. The two-mile relay squad, composed of Larson, Shets, and McLean is lacking a fourth man. It is the only event for which any men have been tentatively chosen. Work is being carried on in the manual training department on equipment for the new track, which is nearly completed, and is acknowledged to be one of the most promising in the state. Many meets are scheduled for the local track, but dates as yet are not final.

GET REVENGE AFTER PREVIOUS DEFEAT

Marion High School gained revenge for an early season defeat by the alumni by soundly trouncing the local "beer bellies" by a 32 to 23(?) score. The High School flashed only at times, but was plainly the better team. Lawe was outstanding for Marion in his floor play and also gained individual scoring honors with a nine point total. In the curtain-raiser the Sophomores trounced the Freshmen by a 27 - 19 score.

DIARY OF A SCHOOL-BOY

LISTEN! . . . . .

Sunday: All I did this morning was cram for the History Exam. I thought I'd catch Dad, so I asked him one of the questions: Who was Dr. Long? Dad said he thought he was Huey's grandfather, but he wasn't quite sure. I don't think there were any Doctor Long's when my Dad first studied American History.

We hadn't heard, but someone remarks on the fact that Eddie Conrad and the lady aren't getting on so well lately.

Monday: I was sick again part of the day. I'm going to become a doctor so I can take care of myself, or else I'll have to hire a private doctor. In P.T. today we all cheered Kacher when he made so many holes when we played basketball. He ought to take up the famous game of solitaire since he likes to play games by himself.

There is some little comment about Jack Price and Bob Newlin since they came into an unfamiliar study-hall the other day in the middle of the hour. Of course, knowing the lads as we do, we are sure that it was all a mistake.

Tuesday: Grade cards again. Just when I get out of the habit of studying by going to a lot of parties, etc., grade cards come out to remind my parents that I really should be studying. I managed to get all "A's" like so much fun. Maybe I shouldn't read so many magazines and write so many notes when I should be studying. It's all very strange how the teachers can tell the student who studies all the time. Maybe I'll turn over a new leaf and study this six weeks for a change.

Did you hear about Betty Hense and Betty Mae Marchent? It seems that there is a little difficulty about who really controls the young man involved. Dear, dear girls; restrain yourselves.

Thursday: I've had some more bad luck. I'll either have to reform or get tougher. Mother won't let me play with half the boys in town and the mothers of the rest won't let them play with me. As a result I don't have many friends.

Since we said something about the scene that a certain show window revealed last week, we have heard no more reports. Don't let us discourage you.

Friday! The last day of school again this week. The whole day seemed dark when we learned one of our teachers was going to leave us. When I came home I painted my bicycle orange and black. When it's finished you will be able to see it at least six blocks away on a clear day. I ended the day in the proper way by calling on Betty Ann and taking her to the movie where we saw the last chapter of the Dix Serial.

Mr. Porterfield is a shyster. Here he has been kidding us along all winter by showing up when it's 30 below without a coat, etc., and it was only last week that we found out that he wears woolen longies.

Along that same line we have heard that Wally Oldfather wears a flannel nightshirt and that Roscoe Markert didn't have a pair of long pants until he was 13 years old.

There always seems to be trouble when a couple of red-headed huskies get involved in something. It's happened before and now it's happening again over the young blond missile down on tenth street that has added a pair of perfectly devastating glasses to the rest of her virtues.

THE BLEACHERS . . . . .

Last Friday at two o'clock a game between Marion and the winner of the game between Wilson and McKinley High School of Cedar Rapids will be played. Marion has beaten Wilson and Mt. Vernon, who has beaten McKinley, but previous games don't mean a thing in a tournament.

Without committing myself too far, my choices for the finalists are Marion and Roosevelt, with the team in the best condition winning. Mount Vernon is my consolation ( 3 place ) winner. Your guess is as good as mine - maybe Coggon will win.

Spring must be here. Marbles, baseballs and skates hold a prominent place in the average boy's mind.

I heard a rumor that Miss Wilcox was going to insist on all glee club boys going out for track so they would be in shape to run home from school and back again for rehearsals. What will the girls do - hire taxis?

ORIGINAL POETRY . . . . .

I LIVE FOR LOVE by Lucille Cone

One day out under the azure sky
Jim on his bike went riding by
Nearby stood Lucy, waved her hand
And said, "I've got to get that man."

She tried and tried and him she won
"I've got him at last and now for fun,"
Said foolish Lucy when she knew
That Charley's affections numbered few.

She ran after Charley when she knew she shouldn't

But talk against her? No, sir! Jim wouldn't

How wouldn't give other girls a break
Long he stayed true for Lucy's sake.

Now Jim is gone and Charley's not so hot
And poor little Lucy is in a spot
She wishes now she'd not been so rash
And stuck to her Jim instead of that mash.

THE HEART CLINIC . . . . .

Dear Romeo and Juliet,

Can you help me? My boy friends want to control my dance program whether I like it or not. How shall I manage to dance with whomever I wish, and how many dances shall I allow my escort to have?

Worried

Dear Worried

The correct thing to do at dances is to let your escort have as many dances as he wants. But if at every dance he insists on dancing every dance with you, politely tell him that you promised a few other boys a dance, and give them your promise when they come to ask for their dance.

Romeo and Juliet

Dear Romeo and Juliet,

What can you do when the boy friend asks for a date to something when you have already OK'd someone else. Should you break the first one and go with your boy friend, or tell him to get to ____?

Hard-Boiled

Dear Hard-Boiled,

Try never to make a practice of breaking dates. If your boy friend was late in asking for one, you still have promised one to the first boy, and keep it. Having dates with others instead of your same boy friend will make your big moment have more respect for you, and let him know you can go with others instead of just him.
