JACK TAYLOR HURT IN SHOP

Jack Taylor was absent from school Friday for the first time this year; the reason was merely that the doctors would not let him leave the hospital. It seems that Jack is something of an amateur mechanic, his specialty being Maytag engines.

Thursday night he was tinkering with one which he had previously purchased from Got Oxley for three bucks, and had the ill fortune of getting his arm caught in the works. After he became untangled from the spokes, it was found that he had cut his wrist to the extent that the five cords of his fingers and an artery or two had been severed. Jack was rushed to the hospital and will probably have to remain there for several days.

What a jumble! What a mess!
When you start to school -
That is if you're a freshie,
Goat of ridicule.

But if you show that you can be
A sport about it all,
Don't forget, your chance will come -
You'll be a soph next fall.

STREET SCENE.....Ann Batchelder

My hat upon my bang-clad brow,
My promena de begun
I never thought or dreamed, I vow,
My stocking had a run.

But I, when one behind me said,
She doesn't know it, "twas by her
and said, "I know it now."

DIARY OF A SCHOOL GIRL by Betty Ann

MONDAY- Today is Labor Day so I celebrated by doing nothing. It is probably the last chance I'll have because school starts tomorrow and I don't want to flunk again.

TUESDAY- Gee gosh but it's awful to get up at 7:30. I get tired enough anyway-stumbling over those freshmen. Peter McArthur says that freshmen are as big a mistake as flies.

WEDNESDAY-School didn't 'till 9:00 this morning so I feel better. I wish I could sit by the windows, it's so tiresome just looking at teachers and peoples backs.

THURSDAY- Christian Endeavor party tonight at Sam's. Sam Jackson sure is getting religious.

Freshmen never take good advice, do they? Peter says they ought to lay off of him and start obeying rule 1 (last week's VOX)

FRIDAY- Just another day in my sweet young life, full of problems in geometry and world history. I flunked our daily English test. O my !

BIOLOGY NOTES -

Superstition shows a lack of knowledge.

How did the Europeans use spices during the time of Columbus? Columbus blundered into America when he believed India could be reached by a shorter route. The spices he was interested in procuring were not to be used by cooks but by doctors to treat sick people. Spices at the time were too expensive to be used as preservatives.

Fall mushrooms are out. If this moist and warm weather continues, many a table will enjoy this unexpected variation.

CHANGES IN STUDENT BODY FOR 1935-7

The membership of the student body of the high school underwent many variations this year. Seven of last year's underclassmen have moved to other schools this year. They include: Betty Manthis, moved to Perry, Ia.; Virginia Eyle, to Hollywood, Fla.; Clara Smith, to Dinwiddie, Ia.; Truman Hobbs, to Tipton, Ia.; Oleo Cobbison, to McKinley High, Cedar Rapids; Roberta Ann Petty, to East High, Sioux City; and Lucille Mulvey, to Roosevelt High, Cedar Rapids.

The membership of the student body was augmented this year, in addition to the regular freshman classes, by ten students who transferred here from other schools. They include: Knafes Ellison, North High, Des Moines; Frank Klem, Alburnette; Bob McBride, Franklin High, Cedar Rapids; Leland Gaines, Leonard, Mo.; James Kiltz, Franklin High, Cedar Rapids; Dorothy Nebendahl, Wilson High, Cedar Rapids; Neoma Merritt, De Smit, S. D.; Virginia Lee, Albuquerque, N.M.; Ethel Hayes, Mt. Vernon, Ia.; and Betty Baranek, from Wilson High, Cedar Rapids.

Members of the student body, the general science class, and the solid geometry class sent flowers to the funeral of Milo A. Porterfield, late professor of physics in the Marion High School. Services were held at Marysville, Mo., June 4, 1935. Acknowledgement has been received from Mr. and Mrs. Asa Porterfield and family, by the respective groups.

STANT FOOTBALL PRACTICE HERE

Al McKean

The first call for football men was issued on Labor Day. On this day 30 candidates were issued equipment by the coaches, Coffman and Hoeck. The next day, Sept. 8, the prospects for Marion's 1936 football team totaled 41 candidates. This number included a good representation from the freshman and sophomore classes.

Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday nights were devoted to fundamentals as well as blocking and tackling practice. Twenty minutes are devoted each night to calisthenics to limber and build up the muscles. Coach Coffman has charge of the backfield and ends and Coach Hoeck has charge of the linemen.

The coaches are doing their best to make this year's team a winning one, and if the team will work hard and obey training rules and is given good support by the student body, we will have a team that will capture more than their share of games.

ROOSEVELT TAKES ANAMOSA 7-6

Roosevelt defeated Anamosa Saturday morning in a practice game at Hill Park by the margin of a drop-kick after the touchdown. Roosevelt displayed a powerful line attack and occasionally some good pass plays.

But Marion has a heavier line than Anamosa and should be able to stop most of the line plunges. In other words, I think Marion will have a good chance of beating Roosevelt when they meet Sept. 25 at Hill Park for the opening game of the season.
