

To Workshop

Every year Quill tries to send one person to the Journalism Workshop at Iowa. This year Sharon Moore went.

It seems as if the Marion kids always get stuck on the other side of the fence. I got stuck in a dorm that was down the hill, across the river, and up the hill. As most of you know, the hills in Iowa City go straight up or down. Since our dorm was miles from all workshop activities, we had to leave the dorm before the rest of the workshop got up.

The classes were divided into five sections: Letterpress, School Page, Mimeograph, Advanced, and Yearbook. Naturally since Quill sent me, I went to the Yearbook Division. (Too bad VOX didn't send anyone). There were four classes a day. The nights were pretty well planned too. For night activities, we had a Get-acquainted Party, Tour of Television Studios, An Evening With Harlan Miller, Seeing the Stars (Observatory on the roof of the Physics Building), Free Movie, Swimming Party in the Iowa U. pool, and a Graduation Banquet. I might add that the newspaper divisions went to the Iowa City Press-Citizen. While one group was there, they saw the "stop the presses" when a new headline came in.

The workshop staff was made up of instructors in SUI journalism, high school teachers, and newspaper or yearbook company representatives. Marion High graduate Bob Kerns was there from the C. R. Gazette.

I think that all who have been to this workshop will agree that they learned a lot. It hope that I can be of help to anyone who wants it. I also have some literature on SUI journalism courses. I hope that next year some one will go to the Iowa High School Publications Workshop and enjoy it as much as I did.

Student Council Active

Student Council has already been busy this year. They have heard a report from Pam Brewer who attended a Student Council Workshop at State Teachers College. The first after game dance was sponsored by Student Council.

Student Council has made plans for the Penny Carnival using the same set up as last year with the exception of having some of the booths outside. Penny Carnival was a big success last year and should be better this year.

State Student Council representatives will be: John Keith, Jim Stimson, Steve Miller, John Black, and Roger Tracy.

WaMac Student Council representatives will be: Jerry McEnany, Diane Schuettelpelz, George Maly, and John Black.

Student Council will combine the usual five committees into two: (1) Finance, Social, Hospitality and (2) Assembly, Citizenship.

Miss Bradley, Miss Stumpf, Mrs. Simon, Mrs. Daily, Mrs. McNiel, Mr. Mitchell, Mr. Hanson.

New Faces At MHS

Miss Barbara Bradley, who teaches sophomore English, is one of the new additions to the Marion High teaching staff. Miss Bradley is a graduate of Iowa State Teacher's College. She is from Centerville, Iowa. One of her activities is the sponsorship of the Quill. Her hobbies are music and reading. She is one of those rare persons who does not have a pet peeve.

Mr. James Hanson is a graduate also of Iowa State Teacher's College. There he majored in mathematics. This year he is teaching geometry and advanced algebra. As to hobbies, Mr. Hanson says right now he has none; he's just been too busy. His pet peeve is the unruly student who doesn't know when to stop talking.

Mrs. Marian Simon is a teacher who needs little introduction. She has been substituting here for quite a long time. She is a graduate of Cornell College. This year she is teaching American government and English literature. She is sponsoring the Vox. When asked about hobbies, Mrs. Simon said she really liked needle-pointing. Her pet peeve is cheating. She originally came from Mendota, Illinois, but she says Marion is really her home town now. She has three daughters, Lanell, Jane and Judy.

Miss Aletha Stumpf is a graduate of Iowa State Teacher's College where she majored in physical education. She is now teaching physical education here at Marion High School. Her hobbies are different sports events. Her pet peeve is students who lack school spirit. Her home town is Rockwell City, Iowa. She is sponsoring G. R. A. and the cheerleaders.

Mrs. Gerry Daily is a graduate of Bethel, St. Paul, Minnesota. She is teaching freshman English. She is sponsoring dramatics and Forensic League. Her pet peeve is people who talk in movies.

Another man you will be seeing around the high school quite a bit is Ray Mitchell, the new custodian. Mr. Mitchell is from West Liberty. He is married, and has two children, Jeff 2, and Laurie 6 months. His hobbies are like most men—fishing and hunting. His pet peeve is when people say "That slays me."

Mrs. Ruth McNiel is another new face at the high school. Previously, she had been working in Doctor Keith's office. Now she is Mr. Messerli's secretary. She is married with one daughter, Marmie. Her hobby is sewing, and when questioned about her pet peeve, she said she really didn't have one. Nothing really bothered her that much. Now there is a woman after my own heart!

Cristina

Cristina Menegazzo is Marion's new foreign exchange student that most of you have noticed flitting from class to class.

Cristina lives in a providence of San Juan, Argentina, and she has two brothers, Daniel, who is fifteen, Raul, who is twelve, and Elsa, her sister who is fourteen. Her mother is Hortencia do Pala, and her father is Hugo Menegazzo. If you are puzzled by the different last names, it is because the Spanish wives retain their maiden names plus that of their husband.

Chris graduated from high school November 30, 1958, and she is now enrolled at the Institute Superior out Profesorado Secundario (Wow)! and is in her first year of mathematics.

Her favorite subject here is English. When asked what her favorite food was, she explained that all kinds appeal to her, but especially our cereal.

Chris flew to Miami by jet and from there to New York by another jet. She described New York as a most "wonderful city, neat, big and clean."

Chris favors Johnny Mathis and Pat Boone as singers and Beethoven tops her list of composers.

She is staying with the Fritz Sorg family, and Chris, we wish you a most happy and memorable year at Marion High.

"Clock of Life"

I'm sure all who heard Rubinoff and his violin at our assembly last September 7, were both surprised and delighted at the type of concert this famed violinist gave.

It was not, as many feared, the music typical to concert violinists, but was instead along the popular line of compositions. A few were composed by Rubinoff himself, which delighted this teen audience, especially the fifteen versions of Davy Crockett.

A highlight of the evening performance came when he removed from his pocket an old, large vest pocket watch presented to him by Will Rogers. Engraved in the watch was a poem entitled The Clock of Life. Rubinoff expressed his wishes that this poem be edited in our school paper.

The Clock of Life

The Clock of Life is wound but once
And no man has the power to tell
Just when the hands will stop
At late or early hour.
NOW is the only time we own
Love, live, toil with a will,
Do not wait until tomorrow,
For the clock may then be still.

EDITORIAL

The new year is now upon us, and it seems to be gaining momentum as each week passes. We have already had two football games, with another one tonight. We have had one dance, and are looking forward to one tonight. We have studied, taken tests (naturally), and had the best assembly that Marion has had in the four years I have been in high school. I will continue with that topic a little later in this editorial.

For the seniors, this is it—the final year. Of the four years of high school this will undoubtedly be the most important. This year will probably form the basis upon which you will live most, if not all, of your life. As for the juniors, they have two more years. This year will be a busy one—the magazine sales, class ring selection, and the prom, to point out the major high points of the year.

The sophomores are still underclassmen, believe it or not. They have had one year of high school life and are, or soon will be, looking back on the "good old days". It may be hard for some of you to realize it, but even though you are sophomores, you still don't "know it all." Last, but not forgotten, are the freshmen. This is your first year in the "big time" (right, sophomores?). There is a vast amount of knowledge to be obtained, freshmen. This isn't all book-learning. Naturally, there will be a fair share of that, but it is also much more than that. I won't attempt to tell you just what it is, but remember, a learned person knows from books and knows from experience.

Now, I should like to comment on the assembly which was presented on September 7. If you were among those fortunate enough to see and hear Mr. David Rubinoff on that afternoon, I am sure you will agree that he is truly a magnificent person. To be able to hear such a renowned individual in person was a great privilege.

I had the honor of meeting and speaking with Mr. Rubinoff. Not only is he a master violinist, but also an inspiring man. The poem to which he referred, the "Clock of Life", is reprinted in this issue so that you might have the opportunity to memorize it, or at least read it for yourself. When speaking with Mr. Rubinoff, he told me that he would like the students to write him and tell him how they enjoyed the concert. If you would like to do so, his address is: Rubinoff Popular Concerts, 159 E. Columbia, Detroit 1, Michigan. If you do have time, you might just write him a letter and express your personal appreciation.

I wish to thank the editors of the VOX and Mrs. Simon, who, although rushed with many other activities, were able to afford time to put out this issue without a staff. They join me in asking you to please BUY THE VOX.

Marion Battles To A Tie

The question is, "Who held who to the 7-7 tie?" To many people, Marion held Waverly. Waverly gained twice as much yardage and threatened to score on numerous occasions. The Indians were weak offensively and had just enough guts to stop the Go-Hawks when it became necessary. Surely, they say, the Indians were lucky to gain a 7-7 tie.

I feel just the opposite. Waverly had to fight like mad to get off with a tie. Marion's offense was weak, but Waverly couldn't move when it counted. Remember the game is won or lost in the end zones and not between the twenty yard lines. Most of the time the Indians had six to eight players playing in their first varsity game. Most of them made some mistakes, but so did the players with one and two years experience. When the chips were down, the "team" came through with that needed yardage or needed defensive play.

That is the key to Marion's success this year. This is a good "team" and if "it" can provide the big play instead of "him" or "those two", Marion will be fighting for the championship, and not the first division.

Marion had to come from behind in the Waverly game. Dave Rowry put the Go-Hawks ahead with a 12 yard TD spring in the opening minutes of play. The Indians tied it in the second canto when a beautiful fake by Max Corporan gave Steve Miller the chance for a 3-yard smash. For the most part the game was played between the twenty yard lines. Marion killed Waverly threats with two intercepted passes, two fumble recoveries, and an important fourth down tackle by Gary Walker. Among the new men to start, Larry Brauer and Al Covington stood out. Brauer led the defensive crew and Covington gained valuable yardage on the touchdown drive. The starting line-up as of the Waverly game is:

LE—Ron Hartgrave, Jr.

LG—Larry Brauer, Jr.

C—Jim Luense, Jr.

RG—Larry Thompson, Sr.

RT—John Pazour, Jr.

RE—Dave Fernow, Sr.

RH—Al Covington, Jr.

LH—Roy Fuller, Jr.

FB—Max Corporan, Sr.

QB—Steve Miller, Sr.

Band at State Fair

If you happened to be up around 7:30 A.M. the Sunday before Labor Day and chanced to glance out the window (before crawling back into bed) you might have seen a band member or two struggling toward the school. This might have been a rather shocking picture as the average showed up carrying his horn, heavy uniform, hat, wash rag, an extra white shirt or blouse, a small overnight case, shoes, shoe polish, plus many other interesting items from pillows (we didn't get home until the wee hours) to an assortment of food to make one sick before even beginning to indulge in the ever popular hot dogs and cotton candy.

The band crowded into the well-known Marion school bus, or if lucky enough, they got into the chartered bus. After a pleasant three hour drive (pleasant according to which bus you were in), we climbed from the buses into our uniforms and into a truck which took us to the band stand in the park. (In a record ten minutes, too.)

The band played an exceptionally fine concert, in spite of the fact that it was so early in the season.

After the program we had the day to ourselves until 5:00 that evening when we played for a different audience.

Many saw exhibits, rode on the various rides, of which "the Mouse" seemed to have a particular attraction. (didn't it, Mr. Wright?) Some attended a talent show, and, of course, most everyone played the games for the ever-popular teddy bear or stuffed animal of some sort. It seems the girls did the best job in acquiring these prizes as Nancy K., Lynda S., Carol S., and Diane P. proved.

We exchanged buses and began the battle of leaving the fair grounds and traffic at 10:00 P.M., tired, half sick from the mixture of too many rides and the most popular beverage—lemonade, but still eager to go. (Well, some were—I think.)

Both busses stopped for a short lunch about halfway to Marion, and then we continued homeward.

We arrived about 2 o'clock in the morning, thinking about next year's fair and promising ourselves that next year we would win that stuffed animal if it killed us, and also wishing we'd taken a little less money along to vanish so quickly.

Little Indians Score Victory

Playing on the home field and possessing considerable experience, the Little Indians handed the Blue Raiders from Anamosa a 27-14 setback. Assistant Coach Ernest Beemblossom inaugurated his career with this impressive victory September 12.

Both teams lacked a consistent offensive thrust, and play was quite ragged during the final quarters. However, the Marion squad struck suddenly for several TD's early in the contest to maintain a comfortable lead. Coach Beemblossom substituted frequently during the entire game in an effort to find the right combination and give the Frosh some experience.

The Little Indians started the scoring on a short run by fullback Don Bailey with three minutes remaining in the first quarter. Marion then recovered a Raider fumble, scored on a 33-yard pass from quarterback Doug Reed to halfback Bob Hoglund, and held a 12-0 first period advantage.

Early in the second quarter, Anamosa threatened with a drive deep into Marion territory. This was the setting for the most spectacular play of the evening. As a Raider back began to bootleg the ball around end, hard-rushing Dennis Thompson literally swiped the ball and ran unmolested for an 85-yard Indian touchdown. The first half ended with Marion leading 18-0.

Penalties and fumbles marred play in the last half of the football game. Nevertheless, Marion resumed their scoring attack. With six minutes remaining in the third period, end John McKean toted a caught pass across the goal line. The extra point kick successful, Marion led 25-0.

Then the Little Indian defense went to work—halting the Raiders on downs and later scoring a safety.

Anamosa did not score until late in the fourth quarter. Pressed for time, the Blue Raiders began an onslaught of pass plays, end sweeps, and on-side kickoffs which enabled them to score two tallies before the contest ended.

If first appearances mean anything, the fresh-soph squad for 1960 looks very promising. All that is needed is good, hard practice during the week and much more student support at the Monday night games.
